Light and Shadow

Phiona Richards

Wall Based - part of Design Nation Leicester Group

Phiona Richards uses re-claimed paper, usually book paper to create tactile folded pieces. This piece is Japanese faux parchment scraps left over from a recent exhibition piece which is a new material to her.

This thicker, sturdier paper is more challenging, but lends itself beautifully to folded envelopes referred to as a Victorian Puzzle Purse. Each square when connected together presents a rhythmic pattern created by the play of light on the surface of the panel.
